The Danger of the Republic Becom ing Manifest to All.

A Reign of Terror or a Monarchy Among the Possibilities.

Royalists Actively Scheming to Attemp to Regain Power-The Panama Canal Scandal Shaking the Republic to Its Foundations.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Paris correspondent of the Times says: "Paris papers betray general ill-concealed consterna-tion. The Debats says that Tuesday's sitting of the Chamber of Deputies was the most painful since 1871. There is a vague, heavy suspicion, weighing like storm cloud on all heads, recalling the famous days of a century ago. Cassagnac says in L'Autorite: 'It is a clear indication that we are in the midst of a revolution.'

revolution,"

The Paris correspondent of the Telegraph says: "The public is in a state of feverish expectancy. The ominous expression of "la premiere charrette," suggestive of the guillotine and reign of terror, has been used in reference to the first batch of senators and deputies. the first batch of senators and deputies to be sacrificed in the Panama affair. The general question is, who will be the occupants of the next tumbril. The decoration and Boulanger scandals are not to be compared with the present crisis."

THE REPUBLIC IN DANGER.

Royalists May Seize the Opportunity to Es-tablish a Monarchy. Paris, Dec. 21.—[By Cabre and Asso-ciated Press.] Excitement over the ciated Press.] Excitement over the Panama Canal scandal today is greater than ever, and the wildest reports are afloat of monarchist plots and coming arrests. It is asserted that Herz has been in communication in London with agents of the Count of Paris, and that the exposure of the Thieree checks is directly attributable to royalist influence. Another rumor is that officials and deputies as well as civilians connected with the Panama scandal have had it in mated to them that their salvation de in the expossal of royalist schemes, and that all their offenses will be condoned if they will consent to betray the republic. Some confidence is placed by well informed people in both rumors. It is apparent that royalist agents have assumed an activity they have not displayed for years. There is also evidence that royalist money is again afloat. Should affairs take a turn favorable to a coupt d' etat in behalf of royalty it is probable, according to current report, that the young Duke of Orleans would be selected to lead the attack. The Duke is more popular than any other member of his family, and his offer to serve in the army as a conscript, when he came of age, made a widely favorable impression.

The great difficulty in the way of a royalist coup is that there are no signs of disloyalty in the army. De Freycinet, Minister of War, is untouched by the scandals that have besmirched his colleague, Rouvier, and he has the de-Panama Canal scandal today is greater cinet, Minister of War, is untouched by the scandals that have besmirched his colleague, Rouvier, and he has the devoted, loyal attachment of the generals in higher command. The military forces in the neighborhood of Paris are kept under the strictest discipline and the greatest vigilance is exercised to prevent any tampering with the troops. The officers of the army, as a rule, are of republican sympathies, the royalist and Bonapartist elements, especially the former, having been relegated on various pretexts to inocuous positions. The government, it is said, has no doubt whatever of the fidelity of the troops, and would at once call upon the garrisons of Paris in case of an outbreak on the part of the royalists.

the part of the royalists. The zeal of the enemies of the republic is also checked by the report, made current unofficially, but not doubted by auybody, that in the event of an insur-rection martial law will at once be pro-claimed, and every insurgent captured in arms either be shot on the spot or executed after a summary court-mar-tial. It is known that officers of the tial. It is known that officers of the navy are much more royalist in tendency than those of the army, but no danger to the republic is expected from the navy, as it is believed the officers in command, however ardently some of them might welcome a reëstablishment, of the monarchy, would hesitate long, before risking the loss of desirable positions. whole of the $260,000,000 has been lost. One-fifth of this sum has been paid to subscribers in the shape of interest adiaterim. Then there are assets represented by the fourth, fifth and sixth items. These cost a little over $140,000,000. Their present value is estimated at $14,000,000. The other three items, amounting to a little over $65,000,000, are a total loss. Of the whole amount expended only a little over one-third was spent in actual construction of the canal.

PANAMA, Dec. 21.— While Panama scandals are being unearthed in Paris, the Congress of Colombia, in anticipation of a speedy return to earnest work on the enterprise, has gone into extra session for the purpose, among other things, of placing in the hands of the executive the powers necessary to extend the power to contract with the new company without further reference to that body. At latest advices a bill embodying such authorization had passed its second reading, and may now be regarded as an accomplished fact.

THE ACCUSED OFFICIALS.

Ex-Minister Roche Creates a Scene in the Chamber—More Prosecutions. PARIS, Dec. 21.—[By Cable and Associated Press. | Immediately after the opening of the Chamber of Deputies today Jules Roche, ex-Minister of Commerce, ascended the speaker's tribune and made his defense. He was laborand made his defense. He was laboring under intense excitement, and swung his arms violently as he walked up the aisle. As he passed the ministerial bench he faced about suddenly

To prevent La Justice from having an exclusive report of the duel, thereby making enormous sales, which would be especially harrowing to Deroulede's friends in case of his defeat, the latter has promised, it is said, to keep the other newspapers fully and promptly pested on the subject. Both combatants looked pale and earnest this morning, but otherwise showed no sign of apprehension. Friends of both are loud in predictions of victory.

The conditions agreed upon will show the two to be remakably lacking in nerve if there is no fatal result. They are to fight with pistols. A Game Bruiser Battles Twenty-five Rounds With Both Hands Broken and Escapes Defeat Joe Choynski in Chicago.

By Telegraph to The Times.

New York, Dec. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] One of the largest purses ever offered two pugilists, since the days of the celebrated fighter Figg. was hung up tonight for the pugilists Jack McAuliffe and Dick Burge by the Coney Island Athletic Club. The sum Coney Island Athletic Club. The sum offered is a purse of $45,000. This, the latest bid, completely overtops the $30,000 purse of the Crescent City Club of New Orleans, made Wednesday morning, and will undoubtedly create a big sensation in sporting circles. The purse was tendered the lightweights for their acceptance tonight. The only persons present were McAuliffe. Eddie Stoddard, his trainer; Judge Newton, representing the Coney Island Athletic Club; Phil Dwyer and Capt. Frank Williams, of the Crescent City Athletic Club.

McAulife asked Capt. Williams what he had to say in the way of raising the amount. The latter said he would first have to telegraph his club before he could bid higher.

McAulife then said he would sign articles of agreement to fight Burge before the Coney Island Club for the $45,000 purse, providing that stipulations be made in the document that Dick Roche, his backer, would approve the match. Articles of agreement were immediately drawn up and signed. The agreement stipulates that both men are to fight at 133 pounds for the championship of the world. Capt. for action.

The Anti-option Bill was taken up, and Mr. Palmer of Illinois proceeded Mr. Palmer said that one of the most serious objections to the bill was that it struck at the common right of citizens to make contracts in any manner now permitted by law. Nothing was farther from the truth than the idea that the farmers and planters of the United States demanded the bill or would demand it if they were made aware of its provisions. He was happy to know that there was no urgent demand for such a bill in the State of Illinois. The effect of the hill (if it should be some also.) of the bill (if it should become a law) would be to drive speculators out of business, and give to large capitalists a monopoly in dealing in farm products. The effect would be to diminish pur-chases, drive out competition, and leave the field of business to the men who were so fercely demanding the pas-sage of the pending bill.

Mr. Peffer of Kansas spoke in favor Mr. Peffer of Kansas spoke in favor of the measure. Ninety per cent. of the American farmers favored its passage or another bill having the same object in view. Farmers did not object to buying and selling for future delivery. That was often convenient and sometimes necessary, but farmers insisted that fictitious, pretended and false commerce in purely imaginary articles, which continually interfered with their business to their injury, ought to be business to their injury, ought to be LONDON, Dec. 21.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] A decision was handed down today in the case of the Queen against Pearson's Weekly, one of the papers conducting "missing word" com-petitions, which were stopped by the ourts because the scheme was an fringement of the gaming act. When the decision was made the proprietors the decision was made the proprietors had on hand, money sent in with the guesses of one missing word. This sum amounted to $120,000, and the question arose as to what disposition should be made of it. The addresses of persons who had not guessed the proper word had been destroyed, so it was impossible to return the money, and the rule of the court prevented its distribution among those who had guessed the missing word.

The Judge today ordered Pearson's Weekly to pay the money into the court. Probably it will revert to the crown.

REDONDO, Dec. 20.—The winter temperature of Southern California has become famous the world over. To be practically without frost the year round, and that, too, in a land which enjoys a very pleasant summer cilimate, is indeed something remarkable. The record of temperature kept at the Redondo Hotel, Redondo Beach, but eighteen miles from Los Angeles, on the Pacific Ocean, shows the following extremes for the months of November and December to date: At 60 clock a.m., 42 to 56 degrees: at 12 m., 58 to 73 degrees; at 6 p.m., 54 to 68 degrees. This temperature, with bright, sunshiny days the rule, makes a residence at this popular resort during the winter season something to tempt visitors from a long distance. But they do not depend entirely on climate at the Redondo. The whole establishment is equipped in the most perfect manner, with hot and cold water, gas and electric lights, and electric call-bells and grates in every room, while the furniture is of solid oak, cherry and mahogony, the carpets body brussels, and everything else on the same scale of excellence. The servants are well trained and attentive, and it is made the first duty of every employee to make the comiort and happiness of the shape of a Y, is such as to enable the architect to give every room in the house an outside exposure, each suite of rooms receiving the sunshine at some hour of the day. The Redondo is a model home for tourists, the service is almost perfect, and the charges quite reasonable. Do not fall to pay it a visit.

Not a Sectional Candidate. The Sam Francisco Examiner, which is casting about for every possible argument to use against Stephen M. White's candidacy for the Senatorship, lays hold of a maladroit remark by the Herald of this city to show that Mr. White is a sectional candidate, and also that his friends claim a mortgage on the Democratic party in his behalf. What the Herald really did say was:

There need be no doubt, either in Oakland or in San Francisco, that the mortgage will be foreclosed early in January, and it will embrace the claims both of a man and a section, with com

If Mr. White can manage to escape the misdirected efforts of his fool friends in the Democratic party he will probable secure the coveted prize. The fact is, that there is nothing sectional about Mr. White's candidacy. His election would mean no more for the Democracy of this end of the State than for the Democrats of the North. He is as broad and unsectional in his views—he is as little prejudiced against other localities-as any man who could be named. He has had such experience in the State Legislature as to make him acquainted with representatives of every section, and with the public interests and requirements of every section. Mr. White was born reared and educated in the middle por tion of the State, and probably is as favorably disposed toward it as he is to his own home. In his public life he has not achieved prominence and local favoritism by reason of his championship of measures concerning his own baili-wick particularly, but he has made his fights on broad and comprehensive is sues, and, by force of ability, has easily achieved for himself the foremost posi tion in the Democratic councils of the State. His recent canvass of the State conjointly with Mr. Estee had nothing sectional about it, nor were sectional issues discussed. When Mr. White was put forward as the leader of the California delegation something over four years ago, and was honored with the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic National Convention, he was not generally recognized as Mr. White of Los Angeles, or Mr. White of the South End, but Mr. White of California. He is, in fact, a representative man of the entire State, and he is as broad and liberal in his ideas as any Democrat in California. For the narrow-minded little souls up about the Bay of San Francisco to come at him now with this pettifogging cry of sectionalism, raises our choler are perfectly aware that, as a Repub lican journal, it is not our partisar fight. But, all the same, we despise such miserable cant in any party, and we have the privilege of speaking our mind to the Democracy or to the Czar

This is Real Funny

It requires bold fearlessness of the tfuth to assert that Mr. Foote is the sutruth to assert that Mr. Foote is the su-perior of Mr. White in either dignity, talents, learning or eloquence, but the Examiner does all that and more. It says it desires Mr. Foote elected not only because he is the "ablest Democrat named for the position," but also "be-cause he stands as a Californian for Cal-ifornia, below as well as above the Teifornia, below as well as above the Te-hachepi range." And this is said as an ifornia, below as well as above the Te-hachepi range." And this is said as an argument to defeat a man who was born in San Francisco, and drew in with his mather's milk love for California! Stephen M. White was bred, educated and grew to manhood in Northern Cali-fornia, but took up his residence in Los Angeles as an inviting place for a young man to begin the practice of law. He is not making a sectional fight for the man to begin the practice of law. He is not making a sectional fight for the Senatorship, but the Examiner is trying to make a sectional fight against him. His support comes from every part of the State, while Mr. Foote's support comes from a few men and newspapers clustered about the Bay of San Francisco. But when the Examiner states that Mr. Foote is a better Californian than Mr. White and his superior in mental equipment, one is forced to the mental equipment, one is forced to the conclusion that some pranking spirit of an editorial writer is making a guy of the blunderbuss campaign against the Los Angeles statesman.

The Oil-bearing Puente Hills. [San Francisco Grocer and Country Metchant.]

Some ten years ago William Lacy and William R. Rowland began to bore for William R. Rowland began to bore for oil in the Pnente hills near Pomona. Two months ago they had eighteen wells yielding from two to twenty-five barrels off oil each, the average being about five or six barrels and the total output less than one hundred barrels a day. This is worth in Los Angeles $2 per barrel, and as the cost of getting it to the market is small there was a large margin of profit. About six weeks ago to the market is small there was a large margin of profit. About six weeks ago they completed a new well in a new territory which yields 125 barrels a day, worth $250 gross and probably $240 net. This well goes into true oil-bearing strata, and is supposed to mark a new era in the business. If this be so, the importance is very great to all the business interests of the State. to all the business interests of the State to all the business interests of the State. The California oil belt is of great extent, and if once proven to be rich in oil deposits, the profits of production are, so large plenty of capital will be found to develop the field. This would mean cheap fuel and a great creation of manufacturing enterprises.

CHANGED THEIR CREED.

Oskland Congregational Ministers Going Over to the Unitarians. There seems to be something of a disposition on the part of Congregational ministers to change the creed and go over to the Unitarian belief, as will be seen by the following from the Oakland news of the San Francisco Examiner:

Close upon the adoption of the Unitarian faith by Rev. J. Herndon Garnett of San José comes the announcement that the close upon the adoption of the Unitarian José comes the announcement that the Congregational ministers from Oakland have renounced their creed and are now preaching the Unitarian beliefs throughout the State.

Rev. G. B. Allen is a gentleman well known in Oakland. He has been a minister of the gospel for twenty years, the greater part of his life having been spent in the Gongregational faith. He was the pastor of the Park Congregational Church at Lorin at the time of his conversion, and it was only two or three weeks ago that he asked for and obtained his letters of dismissal from that church. The letters were given, and Dr. Allen is now in Fresno, where he is preaching in the Unitarian Church.

Dr. Allen began his labors as an Episcopalian. Later he became a Congregationalist, and as a minister of that denomina-palian. Later he became a Congregation-alist, and as a minister of that denomina-tion he has had charge of churches in Santa Rosa, Oakland and other parts of the State. As he was in the ministry before his conversion to the Unitarian faith, so he will remain in the Unitarian ministry. He will remain in Fresno for a while and will then return to his Oakland home. Dr. Allen's change of faith began some then return to his Oakland home.

Dr. Allen's change of faith began some time ago, when Rev. C. W. Wendte, the general agent of the National Unitarian Society, and the principal organizer of that religion upon this coast, became involved in a controversy about the divinity of Christ with Dr. Coyle of the First Pressyterian Church. There were a series of public arguments, which Dr. Allen attended, and his conversion dates from that time.

The other Oakland minister who has gone from the Congregational denomination to the Unitarian is Kev. Theodore Haven. Rev. Mr. Haven had no congregation in Oakland, but had been connected with the Congregational denomination for many years. He was the son of Bishop E. O. Haven, one of the most noted divines of the Methodist denomination in the East. Bishop Rever was changelly of Methodist College. Haven, one of the most noted divines of the Methodist denomination in the East. Allen, he only decided to take the final step within the past few weeks. He is now in Saliem, Or.

"Both of these conversions here occurred recently," said Rev. C. W. Wendte, "but they are only in the line that has been started within the last few years. There has been much of this going on of late.

"Three Congregational ministers from the southern part of the State have recently joined our denomination. Two of them are now in the Unitarian ministry, and one took his congregation with him. Dr. Scott, a prominent Methodist and president of the Ohlo State University, has asked for his letters from the Methodist Church, and while he has not joined us, his views are decidedly Unitarian. Dr. Thomas of Chicago has estimated that there are 100 ministers of the Methodist faith who would join the Unitarian denomination if they could find support.

"This is but a sign of the times, and we are feeling the effects by the great discoveries of the age in natural sciences. It is the effect or these discoveries working in religion, and they are just beginning to make themselves felt. More progress was made in the natural sciences in the past fifty years than was made in the previous thousand, and it is being made manifest: in religion as well. The sciences and religion to the First Presbyterian Church, received a call to the Union Congregational Church of Providence, R. I. He accepted the call and changed his creed.

The Riot Act as Read from Oakland

The tenderfeet who occupy the section of the State south of Tehachepi are very touchy of the fact that older residents of California resent their dictation as to the manner in which the affairs of the whole Commonwealth shall be conducted. It is these immigrants from Kansas and Minneapolis, most of them radical, dyed-in-the-wool Republicans, who are endeavoring to divide the State, so that they may operate their own political machinery without interference by Californians, who are for the greater part Democrats. It is more than a probability that this State division ghost will walk through our Legislature this winwalk through our Legislature this win ter. It will be the duty of the repre ter. It will be the duty of the repre-sentatives of the people who live north of the Tehachepi to lay this ghost—by mild exorcism if possible; with a club if need be. Until the Johnny-come-latelies of Iowa, Nebraska and Podunk are acclimated to the Californian en-vironment—until they are fitted to our political and social ideas, they must sit on the back seat, and unless they are permitted to speak they must sit in on the back seat, and unless they are permitted to speak they must sit in silence. They must not allow "the spirit to move them" to the utterance of opinions or actions that are inimical to the prejudices and opinions of the rest of the State. Dictation by a section must not be allowed, and it will not be allowed. Let our Southern Californian tenderfooted friends and recently registered fellow-citizens bear this in mind and sing their songs of jubilee or deflance fellow-citizens over this in minu and sing their songs of jubilee or defiance in a lower key—let them murmur their desires if they wish, but no shouting— no loud, raucons yelling from the land of the night-blooming citrus.

A New Measure in Aid of the Nicaragua Canal.

Gen. Rosecrans Begins His Journey to Los Angeles.

A Montana Man's Offer to Coin Silver Dollars Disregarded.

Washington, Dec. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The new Nicaragua Canal Bill, reported by Senator Sherman, is drawn on substantially the same lines as the bill reported from the committee to the last Congress, including, as it does, the proposition to guarantee the bonds of the company to the extent of $100,000,000 to add to the construction of the canal. The new bill, however, contains some additions which in crease the obligations of the company as well as the security of the Govern ment. For instance, the real and per sonal property and franchises of the sonal property and franchises of the company are included in the liabilities. It is provided that all stock heretofore subscribed for or issued shall be called in and cancelled; all bonds issued redeemed and cancelled and all outstanding obligations satisfied, before the act takes effect. Dates are changed to make the bords issue in January, 1893, and mature in 1953, but they are also made redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after 1913. The section requiring the company to execute a mortgage to the United States as security for the guarantee, is amended by requiring the company to execute a mortgage to the United States as security for the guarantee, is amended by the addition of a clause requiring the mortgage to contain a provision for a sinking fund for the payment of the bonds at maturity. If the company defaults in the payment of interest or in other respects before the canal is put in operation, the right of foreclosure shall at once attach in favor of the United States.

shall at once attach in favor of the United States.

The bill excludes from the expenditures that may be taken into account the consideration paid or agreed to be paid the Nicaragua Construction Company or other parties for expenditures by them, and for the concessions from Nicaragua and Costa Rica, and the total amount, principal and interest, of bonds that may be issued for the first payment, is fixed at $6,000,000, instead of $4,000,000 as in the original bill.

Perhaps the most important changes in the bill are those made in the section relative to the issue of stock. In the new bill this is limited to $100,000,000, of which $12,000,000 is to be retained by the company the amount of the stock. 000. of which $12,000,000 is to be retained by the company, the amount stipulated to be delivered to the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, according to concessions, and the remainder to be issued to the United States, full paid and not subject to assessment, to be voted by the President of the United States, or his proxy, at stockholders' meetings, and but three directors are to be selected from the holders of stock other than that owned by the United States. In the last section an amendment is made so that ten instead of six of the fifteen directors shall be appointed by the President of the United States, not more than five of whom shall be from one political party.

AN OFFER DISREGARDED.

A Montana Man's Plan for Coining Silver Dollars Not Entertained.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The offer of Mine Super-intendent Allen of Butte, Mont., to coin a silver dollar of more intrinsic value than the standard dollar issued by the Governmennt at the rate of 90 cents apiece will receive no consideration at the Treasury Department for the simple reason that there is no legal authority for acceptance of such offer, even if regarded as advantageous. It is conceded that a profit would be realized in the coinage of a dollar containing 400 grains of silver at 90 cents a coin, and that the existing discrepancy between the face value and bullion value of the coin is a temptation to counterfeiters. Unuer existing conditions, however, the remedy for this state of affairs lies solely with the people who make the laws and not with the officers who execute them. Governmennt at the rate of 90 cents Washington, Dec. 21.—The Republican Senate Caucus Committee this morning discussed the situation in the morning discussed the situation in the Northwestern States where elections for United States Senators will soon be held. It was decided to give the Republican States in question all the moral support possible, and urge them to watch every move the Democrats make with a view of securing Democratic Senators, in order to prevent the return of enough Senators to give the Democrats control of the upper house after March 4. It was also decided to appoint a committee of Senators with power to take such measures as seem lest to secure the ends in view.

INE Japanese Glove Boxes given away to every pur-chaser of one pair of Kid Gloves. The Swiss are noted for their fine embroidery; the French for their creations in art fancies. The combination of Swiss embroidery on French colorings in Silk Chiffons makes real art more perfect. Four countries are here represented in Chiffon Handkerchiefs—Italy for the Silk, Switzerland for the Embroidery, France for the Chiffon and America to sell them in. Here is a union of foreign powers for the creation of a woman's fancy. Here is lovely feminineness to carry in your pocket, or, what is better for the merchant, to carry in your hand and lose it on the street. Whoever knew a lady to carry a handkerchief more than a few times before she forgot where she laid it. This is profit for the merchant, and we bear the burden without complaint. Prices are in your favor—25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00. There is as much style in Pocketbooks as there is in dress. A lady who has a fine pocketbook carries it in her hand in a conspicuous manner, and has a be-witching way of laying it down so people can see it. They sacrifice caution for show, but when the pocketbook is a little shabby caution protects them. There is no show here. Pocketbooks, Purses and Card Cases, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00. The General Passenger Agents and the Scalpers.

A War of Extermination for Revenue Only.

Big Holiday Travel on the Los Angeles Roads.

The Santa Fe's New Steeping Cara-Trains Helated by a Freight Wreck-General, Local and Personal Raurond News.

The war between the general passe n ger agents and the ticket brokers is waging merrily. The latter, in most instances, are fighting solely on the de-fensive, and, realizing the earnestness of their natural enemies in the desire to exterminate the race of scalpers, are fighting their best. Next year the railroads all expect to get rich from the World's Fair traffic, and if, in addition to maintaining regular rates, the roads can abolish all ticket commissions and suppress the brokers a much greater volume of cash can be counted on for their respective treas-uries. While in some quarters the brokers show fight, in other places they adopt more conciliatory tactics. In Chicago the brokers are trying hard to keep out of jail, and in Minneapolis they have taken fright. At a recent meeting of the brokers of St. Paul and Minneapolis a resolution was adopted prohibiting members of their association from handling annual passes or compilhibiting members of their association from handling annual passes or complimentary transportation. The resolution provides that if these tickets are scalped by brokers in the future the party selling them shall at once be reported to the company issuing the transportation. This sudden reformation on the party of the brokers comes from the fact, that the railway companies are about to wage a war on the brokers and about to wage a war on the brokers and that a proposed law will be submitted that a proposed law will be submitted to the interstate Commerce Commission providing that all dealers in railway transportation shall be the duly authorized agents of the company or companies issuing the tickets sold. A bill will be introduced at the coming session of the State Legislathre which will require all ticket brokers to have a license, to be certified by the lines with which be certified by the lines with which they wish to do business, and that the license shall be conspicuously posted in the place of business of the broker. MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

Sonference of Republican Councilment The Probable Result.

Several informal conferences were held between the Republican memberselect of the City Council yesterday, but plect of the City Council yesterday, but it is insisted that nothing has been positively decided upon in regard to the organization of the Coun-cil. It is generally conceded, how-ever, that Freeman J. Teed will be the ever, that Freemand. Teed will be the president, if he desires the place, and it is thought that this is settled. It is also conceded that Caldwell will be retained as Superintendent of Street Sprinkling. A large number of names were considered for the Commissionerships, but it was insisted that no one was decided upon positively for the ships, but it was insisted that no one was decided upon positively for the place. The general opinion is that Fire Chief Moore must go, as Mr. Strohm refused to go into caucus except on this basis.

The alleged conference or caucus, which was said to have taken place among the Democrats in the office of Mayor-elect Rowan Tuesday, as printed in the morning Democratic organ is among the Democrats in the office of Mayor-elect Rowan Tuesday, as printed in the morning Democratic organ, is denounced as a "fake" pure and simple. The three Democratic Councilmen in the city positively deny that they took any part in any such caucus, and say that absolutely nothing has been decided on their part.

There was some talk yesterday of a possible deadlock, in case the Democratic members were not treated with what they considered due consideration. It requires six votes to pass any ordinance appropriating money, or to pass any measure over the Mayor's veto, and it was suggested that in case the Democrats became dissatisfied they could virtually stop legislation. This contingency is one, however, not likely to arise, as it cuts both ways, and in case of a balk the supplies could be shut off from the Street Superintendent and Engineer's offices by the Republicans. Besides, such action on the part of the minority would not be sustained by public opinion, and would prove disastrous in the end to any one attempting it.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Investigating Faise Alarms - Appointments and Promotions.

The Fire Commissioners met in regular session yesterday morning, with Mayor Hazard and Commissioner Kuhrts in attendance.

Chief Moore reported that William Barry, driver of No. 5, hose cart, has been before the commission four times for violation of rule 27 (against drunkenness,) and has continued neglect of duty and violation of above rule. He had prepared his resignation and then withdrew it. The Chief, therefore, felt compelled to prefer charges.

Barry came before the commission and admitted that he had been up three times on the charges, but promised that this would be the last time he would give offense.

The Chief asked Barry if he had been in J. D. Fennessy's office Tuesday morning. He acknowledged that he had. The Chief then stated that while Fennessy and Barry were together in the former's office the false alarm of fire was turned in from that office. The Chief felt sure that one of those two had turned that alarm in through mischief while on a drunk together. Barry said he knew nothing about the alarm. The Chief said it had given rise to reports of sensational alarms turned in by himself, and placed him in a glaringly false and unjust position, besides placing the whole department in an annoving position and causing much demoralizing talk among the men.

After further talk, the matter went over one week for investigation.

The Chief reported the following appointments, transfers and promotions:

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES.

"A Visit to Santa Claus's House,"—First Baptist Sunday-School.

Last evening the above named beau-tiful cantata was given by the members of the First Baptist Sunday-school, they thus being the first school in the city to begin the pleasant task of entertain ing the children in a public manner, at the glad season of Christmas. The large audience-room of the church, and lecture-room opening therein, was crowded more than full, with an eager crowd of old folks and with an eager crowd of old folks and young folks, who, as the entertainment proceeded, gave good evidence that they fully appreciated all that was said and done. The exercises were a complete success, thanks to Mrs. F. J. Cressey, under whose immediate direction they were given. To her, above all others, must be given the honors, for they were well-earned and well-deserved. Mrs. Cressey was well supported, and faithfully assisted by Superintendent W. G. Shaw, Miss Grace G. Hubbard, accompanist; Mrs. Prof. Dozier and Mr. Charles A. Rece, not forgetting J. W. Francis, whom nature seems to have developed on purpose to take the part of "Santa Claus."

An immense stage across the south end of the church gave ample room for more than one hundred children, and a score of those of maturer years who took part. At one end was a veritable house, including window, chimney and snow-laden roof, the home of old Santa, in rugged contrast to a cosy bedroom scene that, early in the evening, was scene that, early in the evening, was scene that, early in the evening, was shown at the opposite end. The decorations of snow-laden pine trees, in the rear, gave a pleasing contrast to the general brightness—thanks to the skill to Mrs. J. H. Hege and her assistants. The entire plot of the cantata, with its several appropriate dialogues, and many rich choruses and attractive scenes, made an entertainment as appropriate as it was unique. In all respects it was a complete success, and a credit to all who assisted in its rendition.

Dr. Briggs Takes Exceptions to the Pros-ecution's Methods. New York, Dec. 21.—[By the Asso-

The new evidence submitted was extracts from Prof. Smith's writings, "John Bull's Catechism" and "The Life of Calvin." The new matter introduced by Lampe was the arguments on metaphysical categories and other points. He further objected to the proceedings because three-fourths of the statements submitted were in reference to the original inaugural address. the statements submitted were in reference to the original inaugural address and other matters considered by the prosecution in their opening argument, and only one-fourth referred to questions considered in Briggs's reply. exceptions were filed.

Lampe then resumed his reading. He quoted from Chillingworth, Henry Hammond, John White and other ministers of the Westminster assembly to prove that they held to the belief that the scriptures were verbally inspired.

Lampe went on to say that all errors which Briggs says Biblical scholars find in the Bible have been known for generations. Through new discoveries made in Bible lands these difficulties are disappearing one after another. What the prosecution claimed was that when the Bible did assign an author to a particular books its decision must be regarded as final. The belief, held for upward of three thousand years, that as far as human agency is concerned the Pentatench is the work of Moses, could not be Horseback riding seems to be one of the favorite amusements. The most prominent equestrians are W. H. Locke of New York, F. A. Foster of Irvington-on-Hudson, N. Y., and C. E. comb's representative on the Pacific Coast, has resumed his old quarters at the Raymond, where he expects to be joined today by Mrs. Harding.

The music room presented a brilliant appearance Tuesday, when the social season at the Raymond was inaugurated by a most successful drive-whist party. At 8 o'clock the melodious strains of Mr. Merritt's cornet resounded through the house, and the guests began to assemble around seven tables, which were set in the music hall. On entering the room each lady and gentleman was invited to draw a flower (Mr. Hovey having kindly sent up from the aurberless a generous basketful,) and then to find the person who had a corresponding bouquet. This novel and pretty manner of selecting partners seemed to be much appreciated by the players, who were thus saved a great deal of hunting for their opposites at the tables. When the bell sounded for the first hand it was seen that the following ladies and gentlemen had grouped themselves around the tables: Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Gale of Northboro, Mass.; Mrs. B. E. Kinsley, of Providence, R. I.; Mrs. A. S. Lyon, Miss J. B. Fleiding, Miss J. H. Flske of Lowell, Mass.; A. L. Sessions of Bristol, Ct.; Mr. and Mrs. D. Bilman of Slough, England; Mrs. M. E. Probably the filthlest spot in town today is located by the side of one of the most-traveled theroughfares. Reference is made to the condition of the land on the west side of Fair Oaks avenue below California street and immediately south of a Chinese laundry establishment. All the waste water from the laundry has been drained for months past directly on the land, until now it is fairly overflowing with refuse water, the character of which is emphalically emphasized by odors too pregnant to describe, notwithstanding the cool weather. The matter is respectfully referred to the proper authorities for investigation and action.

Meeting of the Board of Trustees—The New Electric Franchise. The Board of Trustees of the city of Po

New Electric Franchise.

The Board of Trustees of the city of Pomona held an adjourned regular meeting Tuesday night. After reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, the president announced that if there was any one present who had anything to say to the board they could do so. William H. Burns of Los Angeles appeared before the board and asked that a franchise be granted him and his associates, giring them the privilege of putting in an electric light plant and of running wires, erecting masts, poles, etc., the franchise being identical with that granted the San Antonio Light and Power Company, which company is now furnishing electric lights to the business houses of the city. Mr. Burns said that some might think that the city was well supplied with electric and gas lights, but he recognized in Pomona a growing and prosperous city, and was putting in the plant as a business investment. He expected to put the plant within the corporate limits of the city, where it would be taxed, and the revenue go to the city. It would be operated by steam. It was no matter of revenge or spite, and the franchise was the same as that granted the other electric light company. The franchise was referred to the City Attorney and laid over till the next meeting.

pany. The franknise was referred to the catty Attorney and laid over till the next meeting.

John L. Means appeared before the board and said that as a citizen of Pomona he desired to ask Mr. Burns of what candle-power his arc lamps would be. That in his former home in Grand Island, Neb., they had had much trouble with companies that were granted franchises, and instead of furnishing the city with 2000 candle-power. It will be supposed that this was a matter for the franchise, but for the contract with the city. If the city asked in its contract for a 2000 or 3000 candle-power lamp and he could not furnish it he would not get the business. He also understood that the San Antonio company was not prepared to furnish are lights. J. Albert Dole was present, representing the San Antonia company, and said he would like to know where Mr. Burns got his information. A spirited discussion followed, Mr. Dole saying that the San Antonia company was prepared to furnish any kind of lights the city wanted.

list information. A spirited discussion for lowed, Mr. Dole saying that the San Antonia company was prepared to furnish any kind of lights the city wanted.

I. C. Carter also appeared for the gas company, and said if the city wanted to continue using gas he thought they would be prepared to give a lower rate and perhaps better system.

The City Attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance similar to the Los Angeles ordinance forbidding the carrying of firearms in the corporate limits. The attorney also presented an ordinance slightly changing the boundary lines of the different wards of the city, which ordinance was laid over till the next meeting.

Adjourned till first Thursday in January.

Young Vanderbeck, the Fugitive Forger, Heard From.

Letters Received by His Friends in Santa Ana; in Which He Says He Intends to Commit Suicide—Monday's Accident.

SANTA ANA

Vanderbeck, the young Santa Ana forger, is becoming emboldened by his successful evasion of the officers, and has, of his own accord, revealed his whererbouts and acknowledged his guilt, as the following letter received in the contractions of the ter received in this city yesterday by Capt. Parke S. Roper of Co. F. N.G.C., will verify and tell them I will meet them somewhere, I don't know where vet, but will telegraph back.

"SAN FRANCISCO (Cal.,) Dec. 19, 1892.

"Tell all the boys and girls I am very much obliged to them for the many happy days and pleasant times I spent in Santa Ana, and would like to do it over again, but it can't be did. I am doomed. The Singer Company would roast me if it should catch me, so I am going to fool them.

"Well, Park, don't think too hard of me. I know I am a d—n fool, but I could not help it. I was getting in the hole deeper and deeper every week. You need not worry about my transfer now, as there won't be no such mug when you get it.

"I am going to the Bella Union Theater tonight and see the last show I will ever see on God's green earth.

"Well, good-bye. Remember me to all, the best you can, and don't think too hard of a fellow who is foolish and not to blame. Good-bye, old man.

"Your respectfully."

Good-bye, old man.
"Yours respectfully,
"MILTON G. VANDERBECK.

Milton G. Vanderbeck.

Milton G. Vanderbeck.

What motive Vanderbeck could have had in writing such a letter is indeed puzzling. It was first believed that the letter was a forgery; that Vanderbeck never wrote it, but that some friend did, who desired to throw the officers off his trail. But a comparison of signatures was made between the one in the letter and others on sewing machine delivery orders, which he had signed, and they were found to be almost identically the same, which proved that the young swindler had dared to send a letter from his own hand direct to the locality in which he is wanted for committing a State yrison offense. Whether or not he thinks he can as successfully evade the strong arm of the law is not proven, but is strongly believed here that the little fooi has got his nerve along with him, add that he thinks he is on the verge of great and lasting notoriety.

It is not thought for a moment that he has committed suicide, as his letter would indicate that he contemplated doing, but rather that he thought it would be smart to send out such a missive and that before the letter would reach this city he would be in a secluded hiding place.

His letter has given the officers some very valuable pointers, and from the fact that he has exhibited such reckless carelessness in regard to his whereabouts a few days ago, it is quite probable that he will in a short time be brought up with a sudden turn, and made to pay the penalty of his crime.

The following description of Vanderbeck has been sent out all over the State:

Wanted for obtaining money under false pretense and forgery, Milton G. Vanderbeck.

pretense and forgery, Milton G. Vanderbeck.

He is 24 years old, about five feet nine and one-half inches high, and weighs about one hundred and fifty pounds; hair dark and cut pompadour; has very small, dark mustache; eyes dark gray, or hazel; shoulders a little stooped; two upper front teeth decaying; lisps a little when he talks; talks very rapidly in ordinary conversation, and has a rather blustery manner. On the watch that he wore when he left here was engraved his monogram "M.G.V;" watch attached to black hair chain. When he left he wore a light colored overcoat and derby hat. He is a sewing machine and insurance agent. He is known to have been in San Francisco December 19. Reasonable reward will be paid for his arrest, J. C. Nichols, City Marshal, holds warrant for his arrest.

Two other letters were received last night from Vanderbeck. In both he speaks of suicide. In one, addressed to a relative, he says:
"Well, I'm going to do it, so good-bye. By the time you get this I will be gone into other worlds, dead."
"Yours respectfully,
"M. G. VANDERBECK."
Few were inclined toward the belief late last evening that he has really committed suicide, but the general opinion is that the letters are only a ruse to throw the officers off the track.

MONDAY'S ACCIDENT.

The party referred to in yesterday's Immes as being thrown from his wagon and seriously injured Monday evening, while on his way home, proves to be J. B. Bushard of near the Bolsa. Bushard had hired a team of horses and a buggy from Smithwick's livery stable, and tor some reason the horses took it into their heads to run away, when near the Diamond school-house, near the fair grounds. The buggy was overturned and badly broken, and Bushard thrown violently to the ground, breaking his legs, several ribs, and cutting his face and hands horribly. The accident happened about 0 colock Monday evening, and the unfortunate man laid, cut and bruised as he was, in the road all night long. He was found about daylight Tuesday mornify by a gentleman from the country, who was coming into the city to catch the early train for Los Angeles. The country gentleman took him home and had a physician called. Yesterday he was resting easy, and prospects are favorable for his recovery. He stated to the gentleman who found him that but one man came along the road that night, and that when he (Bushard) called to him, "For God's sake, come and help me: I am dying," the man turned about and ran away as fast as his feet could carry him He then gave up, and thought that if he would have to stay there all night without assistance he would surely die. The horses were found about a quarter of a mile from where the man and broken buggy were, and were unhurt. The wreck of the buggy was brought to this city yesterday.

The Thurmond Trial Still in Progress—
Notes and Personals.
The Thurmond trial is still in progress.
Contrary to expectations, it was not conconcluded yesterday. The defense examined four witnesses in the forenoon, Messrs. Denton and Whittemore, members of the Board of Education, and Holton Webb, principal of the Lompoc schools and a former member of the County Board of Webb, principal of the Lompoc schools and a former member of the County Board of Education, also J. T. Johnson, County Auditor. Mr. Denton, on cross-examination, squirmed around considerably, and several times, as if to gain time for thought, asked that the question be repeated. Witness in answer to a question admitted that he had never seen Prof. Knepper's certificate, but thought he had seen those of Profs. Leslie thought he had seen those of Profs. Leslie thoughthe had seen those of Profs. Lesile and Ostram. Did not think it strange, the granting of certificates without examina-tion of credentials in the cases of Knepper and Lesile, although it was different from graning of certificates without examination of credentials in the cases of Knepper and Leslie, although it was different from the usual custom pursued.

Prof. Webb testified to being present at the meeting of the board in December, 1891, when certificates were granted to Profs. Knepper and Leslie, and was also present at the meeting in June, 1892, wheg the minutes were read by Thurmond. His action was taken as a member of the board from a small memorandum shown him by Superintendent Thurmond, which was supplied to that gentleman by Mr. Johnson of the City Trustees. They though this sufficient. Prof. Snow asked if it was lawful; they voted aye without further discussion, He was shown the same memoranda and recognized it as the same. He never understood that Prof. Leslie had a normal- certificate, but did think Prof. Knepper held one. When Thurmond read the minutes he hesitated at that place, and seemed to put in a character. When asked if the words "and life" were there, he said they were and belong there. He always supposed that the two gentlemen had been before the board in September, when he was not present, and presented their credentials, until after this matter came up. From the word Heidelberg being used in regard to Prof. Knepper, he always supposed that he was a graduate of the celebrated university of Germany. He thought that if Thurmond had sald to him that the slip of paper contained sumdent evidence to grant these gentlemen certificutes, he would have favored it. The only credentials he ever saw was the small memoranda above referred to.

B.F. Whittemore was called, and an anounced that he was a practice of the contained surface of the contained surface of the contained surface.

B. F. Whittemore was called, and announced that he was a preacher of the gospel and a High school teacher at Lompoc. He was also a member of the County Board of Education. Was present when a controversy arose between Thurmond and Barker at the meeting of the Board of Education. After the reading of the minutes, Mr. Barker took the record book, went to Snow and spoke of the situation in an audible tone of voice. Thurmond had read the minutes. Did see the slip of paper referred to, but think it was after the read-sng of the minutes. Mr. Thurmond called Barker at liar. Barker said nothing which I heard. Snow said something about the insufficiency of of the records in the case of Knepper and Leslie. Mr. Barker spoke in an audible tone of voice, and did not seem to care who heard him. Mr. Thurmond rose up and repeated the charge to Barker. Mr. Barker said little or nothing in reply. He seemed surprised.

J. T. Johnson, County Auditor, was the last witness before the noon recess, and his testimody did not seem to be very important for either side. B. F. Whittemore was called, and an

Two fire alarms in the past twenty-four hours, but fortunately no fire of any consequence. The first was on Tuesday night a little atter 9 o'clock, which brought the fire company out in great shape. This was in the smokehouse back of Sherman & Ealands meat market, but a few buckets of water put it out without the necessity of the fire company throwing any water. The second was turned in at 1 o'clock, or a little later, yesterday afternoon. This was responded to almost before one had time to think. This time the much despised city "hoss" got out on State streetin just thirty-five seconds, which is a record hard to beat.

SAN BERNARDINO.

Several tramps, who were prowling about in the vicinity of the county hospital last Tuesday night, seeking a thick patch of bushes for shelter in which they could crawl for the night, stumbled upon a gunny-sack, which they proceeded to investigate, as tramps always do. But the sight that met their gaze was such as to startle even a tramp, for, wrapped in the sack, was the dead and decomposing body of an infant. One of the wanderers hastened to police headquarters and informed Marshail infant. One of the wanderers hastened to police headquarters and informed Marshai Thomas, who took the Coroner out and found the body as reported. It was the opinion of those present that the little one had been smothered by its inhuman mother and thrown away to rid herself of it. This theory is supported by an incident which reported to have occurred about two weeks ago. At that time a middle-aged woman was driving along I street a worn-out old horse attached to a rickety buggy. When in front of the home of Mr. Swarthout the woman got out and deposited a bundle in the yard, from which the cries of a child were soon heard. The little children playing in the yard raised an alarm, which seemed to frighten the woman, and she hastened back and gathered up the bundte and drove off with it, going in the direction of the Santa Fé depot. From this the conclusion was reached that this inhuman woman, who wanted to leave her own or some one else's child for another to care for, is the author of the deed revealed by the ghastly find of the tramps. But no one is able to describe the woman, so it is probable that she can never be found out, unless other matters come to light.

matters come to light.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT."

If it be true that light is a dispeller of crime and great moral force, this city is making rapid strides toward meriting a better name than it now receives at the hands of neighboring cities. For action was taken by the City Trustees at the meeting on Tuesday night looking toward lighting this city better than any lown of its size on the Coast. The resolution adopted by the board calls for the placing of eighty-six lights, and denies all petitions for lights as submitted by the property-holders. It calls for the hanging of most of the lights at the intersection of streets, of which the following are the localities: Eight on C street at the intersection of cross streets from First to Base Line, eleven on D street from First to Base Line, then on F from Second to Tenth streets, eight on G from the failroad crossing to Base line, four on H from Second to Ninth streets, eight on I from Frat to Base Line, eight on Mx-Vernon avenue from the bridge to Base Line, two on Carter, one on J, three on K, one on L, one on Court. Although this is double the number of lights the city had last year, the cost will not be so great as heretofore, by reason of the reduction in price per lamp secured in the new contract with the electric light company.

HOUSE GUTTED BY FIRE.

At 6:45 on Tuesday night the fire alarm was turned in because of a blage in the house of Joseph Cadd, corner of H and Seventh streets. Although the department responded promptly, nothing of the contents of the house could be saved, as the members of the family were all away and the interior of the building all afre. The walls of the building were saved, and nothing else. The loss was about $1000, fully insured. The cause of the fire is not known.

A barn-storming company billed as the Rudolph Comedy Company came to town this last week. On Friday evening the proceeds of the show were $4. A matine was attempted on Saturday, but was given up, owing to the scarcity of attendance. Saturday night was a little better than Friday, $7 being taken in, not enough to satisfy the claims of the Marshal, hall rent, advertising, etc. To increase the contents of their depleted pocketbooks a glove contest was arranged to take place near the railroad bridge, between a hard hitter belonging to the show, and a local sport, for a purse of $27, the terms being that the local sport should knock out the traveling Hercules in three rounds, which feat he accomplished. The purse accordingly became his, and he gave the vanquished comedian $5 of the sum. It is said they walked into town, and it is very probable their exit was made in the same manner.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage, last evening, of Miss Leah Henriques of this city to Mr. S. H. Blumauer of San Francisco was the most magnificent event of the kind that has occurred in Hebrew circles here for a long time. The bride is a sister of Mrs. A. Blum and Mrs. Lazarus of this city, and the ceremony took place in city, and the ceremony took place in the synagogue on Broadway, Rev. A. Blum officiating.

As early as 6:30 the guests began gathering, fully an hour before the time named for the ceremony. A line of carriages extended for more than half a block in front of the synagogue and the building was crowded to its utmost capacity with the cream of Hebrew society. The flash of diamonds and the gorgeousness of the rich apparel of the ladies made a scene of great brilliancy.

A small canopy of bride roses and breath of heaven, mingied with smilax, was suspended above the curtained shrine, where the officiating clergyman stood. As the wedding party entered the orchestra struck up the wedding march, and the expectant eyes of hundreds turned toward the door. The bridal procession proceeded up the south aisle to the platform, led by the nine ushers, Messrs. George Goldsmith, Ralph Levy. A. Jacoby, H. W. Louis, A. Fleishman, Dr. Edelman, I. Laventhal, P. I. Jacoby and H. W. Adler, who wore black evening suits with white kid black evening suits with white kid gloves and bouttonnieres of white carnations. The seven little flower girls came next, five in white and two in pink gowns—Misses Rose Loeb, Nellie Aarons, Theresa Klein, Eva Wineburgh, Birdie Spier, Annie Brode and Flora Norton. After these came the bride's attendants, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Weiner, Mrs. A. Blum and the groom, and, lastly, the beautiful bride herself leaning on the arm of H. W. Hellman. She wore an elegant robe of heavy corded silk in a rich cream tint, and trimmed with costly lace. A beautiful veil held in place by a spray of orgloves and bouttonnieres of white carnatiful veil held in place by a spray of or-ange blossoms enveloped her like a mist, falling the length of the train. The ceremony was pronounced ac-cording to the Jewish rites, and was very impressive from the eloquent lips of Rev. Mr. Blum. An interesting feature of the ceremony was the pressing to the lips of the couple the cup of je and the cup of affliction, represented by two silver goblets of wine, as typi-cal of the joy, mingled with sorrow, which is the lot of all humanity. At the conclusion of the ceremony the procession passed out, the flower-girls strewing the aisle with rose pet-als.

What shall I buy? Hundreds of times a day you hear that question asked; still how easily it can be answered by visiting us. We have a special department which is devoted entirely to use ful holiday presents. Great care has been taken in the selection of these goods, and there is seldom ten minutes in the day that there is not a large crowd of people around the counter. Our prices as they are in everything else are right, and the amount of goods we have sold in this line so far this season far surpasses any season we have had. While our assortment, as yet, is in good shape, we would advise those who have not already bought, not to put it off until the last moment, but come in before the best are all picked out.

Our Cloak Dept.

During the rush of holiday trade we have neglected to mention this depart-ment, but it still continues to flourish. The express has brought us in the last few days some of the bandsomest garments we have seen this season, and which we are sure will please you, and we guarantee to save you from $2.00 to $5.00 on every purchase.

Our Toy Dept.

There has never been any in Los Angeles like it. Thousands upon thousands have visited this department. At times we have been compelled to stop the people from going into it until the crowds had somewhat thinned out. The children, well, they have fairly gone wild over it and for miles around you hear of nothing else than the People's Store Toy Department. We have had three times the amount of toys this season that we did last and still we are afraid we will run short, for one dollar spent in our Toy Depart-ment will buy you just as much as you ment will buy you just as much as you have to pay $2.00 for any other place. We have ample salespeople and you will be quickly served. Come and visit this department even if you do not care to purchase; it is a sight worth while

Christmas Cards

Business in this department has been so great that we have been compelled to start another department which you will find to the right as you enter the store. We have cards of every description, ranging in price from 1c to $5.00, including views of Los Angeles and vicinity, which are just the thing to send

THE CITY TEACHERS

Opening Sessions of the Institute Yesterday.

Interesting and Instructive Exercises at the High School.

A Practical Illustration of the Kindergarten System.

In Exceptionally Good Paper by Prof Dozier on "The Relation of Geography to History and Development"-Other Papers.

The teachers of the city schools as at the High school building yesterday morning at 9 o'clock to attend the opening sessions of the City Teachers' Institute. The teachers are divided into five sections, meeting si-multaneously in different rooms.

Entering room No. 3 on the first floor soon after 9 yesterday morning the Times reporter found a group of some thirty-five or forty kindergarten teachers, with eves and ears centered upon a half a dozen little folks seated at a kindergarten table, who were being interested by Mrs. Frances Mackey. They sang their songs about the cubes and cylinders, and spheres with which they were playing, and the questions put by the teacher and answered by the children showed that the brain was being trained as well as amusement af-children showed that the brain was being trained as well as amusement afforded. A primary class exercise, conducted by Miss Emma Angier, followed.

While this kindergarten training was going on in No. 3, Mrs. Ida Harris was giving a demonstration reading in synthetic reading, by means of a class of pupils from the fourth and fifth grades, up in room No. 15, which was filled with teachers. The children spelled out the lists of words on the blackboard phonetically; sang them to the tune of "Yankee Doodle," and designated accurately the Italian family, the half Italian, the broad, etc.

Meanwhile, down in No. 2, Prof. Melville Dozier was reading an exceptionally fine paper on "The Relation of Geography to History and Development," before the teachers of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. He demonstrated that geography is not a trite subject—a: valley of dry bones—but is full of interest when studied intelligently. No one can read, comprehensively, the daily newspaper, the chlef source of knowledge in current events, without understanding his geography. hensively, the daily newspaper, the chief source of knowledge in current events, without understanding his geography. The telegraphic news columns, which contain the gist of important reading matter on this point, cannot be properly understood without a knowledge of geography. Geography treats of botany, zoöiogy, astronomy, morality, religion, sociology. It is the associate of art and literature, and the handmaiden of history. It teaches agriculture, commerce and mineralogy. Geography makes the difference between the Hottentot and the Esquimaux. Prof. Dozier discussed map study—not a mere dry study of dots and lines—but a deeply fascinating one of climate, geology and the fruitful source of numberless suggestions. The mountains alone form a study of almost infinite research; the rivers are its most fruitful and instructive features, studied from a utilitarian, an artistic and a scientific standard and instructive features, studied from a utilitarian, an artistic and a scientific standard and instructive features, studied from a utilitarian, an artistic and a scientific standard and instructive features, studied from a utilitarian, an artistic and a scientific standard and instructive features, studied from a utilitarian, an artistic and a scientific standard and instructive features. most fruitful and instructive features, studied from a utilitarian. an artistic and a scientific standpoint. Its deserts are full of interest. To the influence of two of the greatest deserts is traced the downpour of rain to which millions of people owe life, and health, and wealth. He traced an analogy between the geographical position of Chicago and New York, the two rival cities of this continent. Whereas Chicago is and New York, the two rival cities of this continent. Whereas Chicago is the geographical center of the country's population, and her people have such sublime energy and self-reliance, comprising the best bone and sinew of the country, who are firm in the belief that they will yet distance the world, Prof. Dozier expressed the opinion that the beacon of liberty would lift her light yet these pressed the opinion that the beacon of liberty would lift her light yet these many years from the portals of our me-tropolis on the Atlantic Coast. "This canal," he said, "means more for the world at large, for the United States in particular and for California especially than any com-mercial enterprise yet projected." Mearly everything is elective after the middle of the sophomore year, and the tendency is to specialize. While not at all denominational, the tendency of the college is leaning toward Uni-tarianism, which the faculty is fighting. tarianism, which the faculty is fighting. The discipline is on the self-government plan, no system of espionage being practiced, and there is no discord, for everyone chooses to do right, ten of the students being elected by their fellows as a managing board. There is no snobbery in the social life of the college, brains being at a premium. There are clubs galore, and waffle suppers are popular on the days when the old waffle woman puts in an appearance. Miss Leona Lebus spoke extemporaneously of Wellesley College, her alma mater. She outlined something of the Wellesley idea, prominent in which is Christianity. The Bible is a required study throughout the course. The college motto "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister" perhaps best embodies the Wellesley idea. Up to the last year all the faculty were women, except one man, who was the husband of one of the women. Wellesley confers two degrees. She is especially strong in literature, in botany and German, while the "snap courses" are elocution, French, geology and astronomy.

A paper by Miss Alma S. Brigham os "Stanley Hall's Experiment at Worcester," concluded the forenoon session.

Other exercises in the various sections during the forenoon were given by Miss Monks, of the Normal school, on "Zoölogy;" LeRey D. Brown on "Science in the Grammar Grades," and Prof. C. H. Keyes on "Civics."

The afternoon session was held in the big assembly hall, which was filled with big assembly hall, which was filled with teachers. An overture by the Highschool orchestra made a delightful beginning. Prof. Earl Barnes, of Stanford University, gave the first address of the afternoon, his topic being "The History of Education." Beginning with the infant schools first established by Robert Owen in Scotland, he outlined the crude beginnings of this system of training young children, which finds modern expression in the kindergarten of today.

After another selection by the orchestra, Prof. Elmer E. Brown, of the State University, gave an instructive talk on "The Essential Steps in All Instruction," speaking with the earnestness and enthusiasm of a natural teacher.

zier, was discharged. The evidence was about the same as given before the Coroner's jury, with the exception of additional facts that were brought out while Mrs. Tupper, the only witness to the affair, was on the stand. Deputy District Attorney Phibbs questioned her, and soon discovered that there was not sufficient evidence to hold the defendant. Mrs. Tupper stated, in answer to a question that was not touched on at the inquest, that several days before the shooting Frazier had told her that the town was not large enough for him and McKenzie to live in, and that if McKenzie did not leave very soon he would cut his heart

The prosecution moved to discharge the defendant, and the Court promptly granted the motion, and McKenzie left the courtroom a free man.

A couple of countrymen created a big excitement in the Oak barbershop on Spring near First street yesterday morning. The two men so nearly answered the newspaper description of Evans and Sontag that every barber turned pale and all business was suspended while the men were in the shop. The man supposed to be Evans had his arm in a sling and ordered one of the barbers to wash his beard, as he said he had not been able to keep it clean since he was injured. True to the barber instinct, the artist who waited upon the supposed Evans, began to talk as soon as the man was safely lodged in the chair, and sweetly remarked: "I am chair, and sweetly remarked: chair, and sweetly remarked: "I am surprised that you gentlemen are not afraid to go about the country so openly." "Why!" asked the man. "Why because you look so much like Sontag and Evans." The man smilingly replied "Oh, that's nothing. We took dinner with Sontag and Evans the day after their fight at Sampson's Flats," and heard his corresponding salked quietly. and he and his companion walked quietly and he and his companion walked quietly out of the shop and turned up Spring street. A strange coincidence is the fact that less than two minutes before the men entered Detective Will Smith walked out of the shop and turned in an opposite direction from the way the supposed train-robbers came. The barbers did not get over their fright all day.

Young Fred Kopp Convicted of Forgery Before Judge Smith-The Jury Only Out About Five Minutes-Adjudged Insane.

The much-talked-of Brunson divorce case came up for hearing before Judge Shaw in Department Five yesterday morning and was disposed of in short order, there being no contest and everything of a sensational nature being eliminated.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Angelina E. Brunson, and her mother, Mrs. Laura A. French, were the only witnesses examined, and their testimony was simply taken for the purpose of showing that the defendant, Anson Brunson, who did not appear in person, had wilfully deserted his wife and had refused to live serted his wife and had refused to live with her for over one year past. Prior to this evidence being introduced, plaintiff's counsel, Messrs. J. McLachian and Stephen M. White, withdrew each and all of the allegations contained in the pleadings with regard to property, after a brief conference with D. P. Hatch, Esq., who represented the defendant, and the Court thereupon ordered a decree in favor of the plaintiff as prayed for. as prayed for

CONVICTED OF FORGERY. Fred Kopp, a young German waiter, appeared before Judge Smith and a jury in Department One yesterday, for

The Final Act in Sunday's Shooting rial upon the charge of forgery pre-ferred against him, and was convicted in short order, in spite of the efforts of his counsel, W. Young, Esq., and his sister, who endeavored to screen him by adopting similar tactics to those which proved so successful in the Dam-ren case. The ju-rors selected to try the case were: D. J. Boynton, Oscar Cheesebrough, H. A. Draper, I. V. Draper, E. W. Failor, G. T. Haniey, N. H. Hughes, J. Quill, W. Rector, C. A. Robinson, L. M. Russell and D. H. Turner. The first witness called for the State was Anna Copp. a buxom German girl.

The first witness called for the State was Anna Copp, a buxom German girl, who testified to the effect that she was employed as a housemaid by Councilman McGarry, and had an account at the California Bank, where she had deposited $125 of her savings. In November last she received a notice from the cashier of the bank to the effect that her account had been overdrawn, but, as she had never drawn upon it nor authorized any one else to do so, she supher account had been overdrawn, but, as she had never drawn upon it nor authorized any one else to do so, she supposed some mistake had been made and went up to investigate the matter. She then learned for the first time that some person who called himself August Miller had drawn $130 from the bank in various sums ranging from ten to twenty dollars, upon checks purporting to have been signed by herself, since August 26 last. She spoke to the defendant, her brother by adoption, upon the subject, but neversuspected him until after his arrest, when he finally admitted the whole affair. Upon cross-examination the witness naively stated the the defendant asked her for money in July last, when she told him that she had none except a few dollars in the bank, but that it was very possible that he might have inferred that she had given him leave to draw some of it.

Joseph N. Witmer, cashier of the Joseph N. Witmer, cashler of the California Bank, testified that on August 26 last the defendant presented a check for $20, signed "Anna Copp." Witness at once went to the signature book, and comparing that on the check with the genuine signature, found so with the genuine signature, found so imilarity between as to disarm his suspicions. The defendant indorsed the check "August Miller," and witness paid the money. From that time defendant called frequently with similar checks, until in November last, when he presented one after the account had been overdrawn. Witness questioned him, and defendant replied that he guessed that Miss Kopp did not receive the notice, and left the bank. Subsequently, after an interview with Anna Kopp, defendant was called in by witness, to whom he declared that he had not been in the bank for over two years, but that the culprit must have lice Court yesterday. They were given as to disarm his suspicions. The dehad not been in the bank for over two years, but that the culprit must have been a young man from Vernon, who resembled him very strongly. At witness's request defendant wrote his name and that of Anna Kopp on a piece of paper, and this upon being compared with the signatures on the checks tailled exactly. Detective Bosqui was then called in, and Kopp, who stoutly denied the charge, arrested. Chief of Police Glass and Detective

Chief of Police Glass and Detective Moffitt coroborrated the testimony, and Momit coroborrated the testimony, and the prosecution closed its case.

The defendant, who was employed at Meisted's restaurant, on Second street, for two years, then took the stand on his own behalf, and stated that after he lost his job in July last, he needed money and drew his sister's savings from the bank, believing that she had from the bank, believing that she had authorized him to do so, and intending authorized him to do so, and intending to pay her back. Upon cross-examination, however, he admitted that he had written her name as much like the original as possible, because he thought he could not get the money unless he did so, and further admitted that he had lied to her about it afterward, because he was ashamed of having drawn all her money.

The jury, upon hearing these facts, remained in deliberation but five minutes, at the end of which time they returned a verdict of guilty, whereupon the Court ordered the defendant to appear for sentence on Saturday next. ADJUDGED INSANE.

in one of his crazy moods, it was deemed advisable to send him back for safe keeping, his being a recurrent

Mrs. Eugenie Deshayes, a native of Louisiana, 81 years of age, residing at No. 466 Commercial street, was also examined in the same court yesterday afternoon, she having attempted to kill her mother in a frenzy of rage recently, but the commissioners, believing her malady to be a temporary one merely, recommended that she be sent to the county hospital for treatment, and it was so ordered.

MARY ALLEN WEST.

Memorial Services in the Presbyterian Church

Union memorial services were held n the Glendale Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning in memory of Miss Mary Allen West, whose death recently occurred in Japan. Appropriate music was rendered by the church choir un-der the leadership of Prof. J. E. Fiske, and during the service the favorite hymns of the deceased were sung.

HIS TALE OF WOE.

The Husband of Mrs. Stetson Unbosoms Himself.

He Does Not Consider His Reform Wife a Crank,

But Her Plans for Bettering the Universe Annoyed Him.

They Kept Her Much Too Busy for His Comfort and Seriously Interfered With Domestic Affairs-Some Very Frank Letters.

That somewhat eccentric young woman, Charlotte Perkins Stetson, of "advanced" ideas and pronounced views, is getting considerable notoriety out of her divorce suit, and will soon be properly equipped, so far as advertising is concerned, to take the lecture platform and tell people how the universe should be run and human nature changed to conform with nineteenth century civilization, from her standpoint. Yesterday an interview was printed, in which Mrs. Stetson gave her side of the story. The San Francisco Examiner of Tuesday, in a special dis-patch from Providence, R. I., gives the following talk with the deserted hus-

Up two flights of crazy stafrs in the Fleur de Lis Building, which in its early days might have been artistic in the eyes of some, though now it smatters of dirty plasfer work and paint, the correspondent found charles Walter Stetson, who has tested reform ideas and found them not to his liking. Mr. Stetson is of a retiring disposition, a noticeable proof of which was his card upon the door announcing that no visitors will be admitted save on Saturday, unless by appointment or on business. Suspended above this was a brass cowbell attached to a rough strip of leather, and there was a further injunction to ring, the noise reverberating through the ratters of the artist's batn-like building.

Mr. Stetson does not look like an abused man, in fact he is] reserved in demeanor, and in conversation showed that he was happy at the thought of a separation in the near future of marriage ties. His is not the ideal tale of woe, but he tells it in the easy, everyday manner of the gentleman: "We were married in this city, May 2, 1884," he said, "by Joshua A. Stetson, a free-will Baptist clergyman. My wife was Charlotte Anna Perkins, and she came of a fine family in Hartford, Ct. When married she was 23 years of age, and I was three years her senior. I have lived in Providence twenty-four years, with the exception of fourteen months in Pasadena.

"Our married life for a year or so was quite pleasant, but she early espoused the Bellamy doctrine and began contributing letters on dress reform, discarded corsets, heel boots and the like, and practiced daily in a public gymnasium. She thought it her duty to sacrifice the domestic and conjugal relations for what she felt she was called to do in the cause of women's rights, dress re-form and nationalism.

"In order to sustain marriage relation she frequently declared that she would have to stay at home more than she wanted to, and she said she could not, therefore, devote as much time as she wished to the preparation of her articles and lectures, for preparation of her articles and lectures, for she began to think that her sphere in life was as a lecturer and writer on reforms. She has since a year after our marriage written articles for the Natioualst, New Nation, Century, New England Magazine. Cosmopolitan and Kate Field's Washington. Her contributions were of two kinds—fiction and purely literary efforts and articles advocating the current reform movement of the day for the elevation of the race. She soon got to be a radical reformer, and her articles largely advocated such reforms. She has made a remarkable reputation as a writer and has been deservedly commended by Oliver Wendell Holmes, William bean Howells and numerous literary lights.

"I have always taken an interest in her success, and have regretted that our separation became necessary. She often expressed a desire to discontinue our relations, and would have done so long ago could she have reconciled what she for several years regarded as her duty to me with her duty to the work she wished to do. in October, 1888, she decided that she would not stay here longer with me, and made ar-October, 1888, she decided that she would not stay here longer with me, and made arrangements to go to California without consulting me. She thought her health would be better there and she would be able to do more work. When I found it out I reluctantly consented to her going, and in the following December I went to Pasadena, being induced to do so by offers of professional work by friends.

"I never considered Mrs. Stetson a crank, though her ideas do not agree with mine. I was always faithful and provided a good home for her. While we lived in Pasadena in July, 1888, she became so decided in her views that it was by compromise that she

I was summoned back in January, 1890, by the death of my mother, but Mrs. Stetson refused to accompany me, though I begged and implored her. I was then contemplating a trip to Europe, but she said she would not go with me. Her reason was that she wanted to be free. I renewed by letter my requests for her to live with me, but she cast me off, and in October last I resolved to get a divorce. We never quarreled to any extent, and the whole trouble was that she wanted to be a woman's leader, to show others how to dress, so as to be strong and healthy and bring up healthy children."

One of the letters received by Mr. Stetson was as follows:

"Dear Walter: It seems to me possible that from my continued friendliness and, perhaps, tenderness, in some past letters that you may have misunderstood my position—have had some hope that I would some day be yours again. Do not decrive yourself, dear. My life is too precious to me to waste any more of it like those seven years we spent together; not wasted in some ways, I grant; full of deep experience and that pain that means growth. But you well know how it unsitted me for my work, and now that you have left I have done good work and lots of it—have made a reputation in one year. The difference is too great. Work I must, and when I live with you i can't: therefore, I shall never live with you again as a wife. I know it is hard for you, but I can't help it. You must take the hard truth and make the best of it. I will write more soon, but this was on my mind today. Sincerely.

"Dear Walter: I am delighted to hear of your excellent health. I, too, am fairly and improving steadily, and Kate is superb. I have been working hard this week, cleaning house for Mrs. Knapp's coming, and have thriven upon the exercise. I am sorry you did not find my letter plain enough—it is hard for us both, but since you ask so specifically I will answer specifically. I have told you these things for years past, you know—you would never believe me. Now you must. No, I will not live with you again, not even in the same house, nor will I come to Providance on any terms. You have to live there? Well, I don't, and I will not go abroad with you, as you know I have been planning and hoping these years past to have you go alone. I will not accompany you on any terms, and for my work—that is my life, and I shall pursue it as long as I live whether you "consent" or not, approve or not. No decision was made today by Judge George H. Wilber, who on Saturday heard the petitioner in the Supreme Court, but a decree is expected in a day or two. The documents in the case, which were shown the correspondent by the Judge, are of great length, comprising depositions from several parties, including one from Jennie C. Carr, a housekeeper, of Pasadena, who states that the couple apparently lived happily, and that Mrs. Stetson said she regretted the necessity for separation for percuniary reasons. She was for a time under treatment by a specialist, and her health was far from good.

ON THE LECTURE PLATFORM The Examiner of Tuesday also give the following account of Mrs. Stetson's appearance on the lecture platform in San Francisco Monday night:

The local Socialists who have taken up the subject of how to rescue the fallen women appeared in great force at Metropolitan Hall last night. The causes that led to the existence of the social evil, and their cure, were the themes of the speakers of the evening.

The usual intelligent audience was present last evening to hear three prom-nent citizens discuss the subject of 'Municipal Safeguards.'

J. H. Dockweiler, the City Engineer, spoke of "Water Supply for Cities" the importance of an abundance of pure water, the various sources of supply and the mode of distribution. He made the rather surprising statement that ancient Rome had a better system for accomplishing that result than any mod-ern city, of which its splendid aqueducts

President Charles H. THAT SMELTER.

Some Facts About the Proposed Enterprise.

The Company Has a Capital Stock of $500,000.

Most of the Shares Held by Eastern Capitalists.

Plans Now Being Prepared by an Expe rienced Engineer-The Lands Lessed on Boyle Heights for the Plant.

So much has been said about the proosed smelter, that a few facts concern ing the company and its stockholder will be of general interest, especially as it is claimed that, now that the water question has been disposed of, the en-terprise will be pushed forward as rapidly as ample means will permit. The smelting company starts out with capital stock of $500,000 owned nearly all by Eastern men. J. D. Sloane of St. Paul is president, Morton Barrows, of the same place, secretary, and F. S. Gardner of Hastings, Minn. and F. S. Gardner of Hastings, Minh., treasurer. Dr. H. H. Smith and W. Bostwick of Hudson, N. Y., are large stockholders, while Dr. F. M. Endlich of Colorado, an old experienced operator of smelters, is general manager. Dr Endlich is now in Chicago prepar-ing plans and specifications for the building of the works and arranging for the shipment of the necessary mafor the snipment of the necessary ma-chinery.

Several acres of land have been leased for ten years on the bluff across the river, just south of, Ninth street, upon which the plant will be located, the company the plant will be located, the company having the privilege of purchasing the site at the expiration of that time. The spot is chosen advantageously, for it lies just between the Santa Fé and Terminal railroads, in close proximity to each, which will afford easy access, and remarkably good shipping facilities, the fact also being taken into consideration that the Terminal road may, in time, prove the feeder from the migin time, prove the feeder from the min ing country on the proposed Salt Lake line.

It was expected and hoped that the smelter could be put in operation early in January, but, owing to delays which have occurred, actual operation will not be begun until the 15th of February. Specifications for the machinery call for a capacity of 200 tons of ore daily. Stacks will be erected for but sixty tons per diem at first, and increased as the patronage and work warrant. As to the exact description of the plans nothing can be learned until Dr. Endlich returns from the East, when a full outline will be forthcoming. As before mentioned, the stock of the

As before mentioned, the stock of th ompany is at present held almost en tirely by Eastern men who have been led to the investment after a close inspection of the surrounding country, believing Southern California to be the natural location of the enterprise. At present the heaviest smelter is at San Francisco. There is another at Pueblo, and several in Arizona, although the latter are not of sufficient size to accommodate the products of the large mines. mines. One of the members of the company, when seen yesterday said in response to the reporter's question:
"Yes sir, we are in this venture to stay, and have no reasons to doubt of its success. When wall under way we expect to handle much of the mining product of Arizons, New and even and a very local company. expect to handle much of the mining product of Arizona, New and even old Mexico, as well as those of the territory directly adjacent to Los Angeles. We will handle ores of gold and silver, using lead to flux with. If that proposed line of railroad goes through to Salt Lake it will greatly increase business, so much so, I think, as to give two smelters sufficient material to work on."

About the latter statement there can be but little doubt. An old mining expert, who is also a San Francisco capitalist, was in the city some weeks ago and recounted the wonderful richness of the Southern Nevada country, and told what an impetus would be given the mining industry if only there was a railroad sour or feeder leading either into this city or San Bernardino. There is a large area of country in that vicinity rich in ore-bearing rock, which, in some instances, does not pay to work with pack animals as means of transportation, owing to the great expense, but which could be handled most successfully if a line of railroad was near at hand to carry it to the pearest smelting point. The gentleman in About the latter statement there can

A SMOOTH FAKIR.

Career of T. B. Bassett in Southern California.

His Operations in Los Angeles, Re dondo and Other Points.

Posed as a Man of Wealth and Carried Out the Part.

A Glittering Success as a Society Leader Finally Arrested in Arizona on a Charge of Safe-robbery and Locked Up.

During the past summer, and for a period leading into the early fall, Los Angeles and Redondo Beach were treated to the presence of one of the most accomplished scoundrels that ever put on the air of plausibility and decency.

To begin at the beginning, the name of the fakir is T. B. Bassett, and while in this locality he actually lived on the fat of the land with but little expense to himself. He put up at the Redondo Beach Hotel early in the summer, and made such an impression on the mandal such as a suc agement that it was given out far and near that he was a veritable Crossus in disguise, and, in truth and in fact, one disguise, and, in truth and in fact, one of the most accomplished silver-mining experts of New Mexico. He came here, it appears, from Lawrence, Kan., and the way he borrowed money right and left and bought articles of merchandise whenever and wherever he could find victims was a caution. Not less than a dozen haberdashers and tailors mourn on account of him, while equally as many, not haberdashers and tailors, are mourning sundry amounts of cool cash, obtained by this smooth operator under false pretenses. Bassett made such a decided mash at the hotel aforesaid that he was the leader in all the doings going on there, and, in fact, nothing was complete without his presence, and he was extolled and lauded by the management as a lion par-excellence.

"It was not until late in the summer.

"It was not until late in the summer, when the leaves began to fall, that the truth dawned on the said management, for, be it known, Bassett had not paid them a dollar, and then it was that he was cornered and all of his personal effects confiscated and turned in to pay, as far as they went, his board-bill.

While doing the hotel the past summer Bassett, who had lived in New Mexico a short time, shoved himself into the good graces of the wife of Gen. Sterry, solicitor for the Atlantic and Pacific Railway, residing at Albuquer-que. Mrs. Sterry and family were stopping for the season at the Hotel Redondo, and so insinvating and persistent was the fellow that it appeared as though he had been the friend of the family for years. He was particularly attentive to Mrs. Sterry's children. Mrs. Sterry suffered to the extent of a diamond eardrop and numerous other articles, which Bassett purloined from her. He sold the eardrop to a Los Angeles pawnbroker, and the lady had to pay the amount advanced before the article would be returned to her, as she had in the meantime departed for New Mexico.

Bassett then slipped down into Ari-

Mexico.

Bassett then slipped down into Arizona, locating at Phœnix. He tried several of his confidence dodges on residents of Los Angeles while there, and, but for close investigation on their part, he would have robby them of a deal of money. As it was, he made use of all the crooked methods and means known to the most accomplished criminates.

deal of money. As it was, he made use of all the crooked methods and means known to the most accomplished criminal, and there is evidence in Los Angelest today, in his own hand-writing, by which he sought to gain money, which would place him behind iron bars for many years.

But there is still more about Bassett. News comes from Arizona that he has at last been foundjout there, after playing his usual games of confidence and villainy. It would appear that he has swindled and beat every person there with whom he came in close contact, and besides, he is now in prison for robbing a safe belonging to Messrs. Pratt Bros. of Phœnix. During his sojuourn there, he rolled equally as high as he did in Los Angeles and Redondo Beach, and among his victims are men, some of them, of national reputation, such as Bishop Kendrick of Socorro. New Mexico; ex-Gov. Osborne of Kansas, and others equally as eminent. Bassett had no appearance of the rascal, as he looked more like an honest, unsophisticated countryman, with an eye to a little neatness and order than what he was—one of the leading confidence fakirs and all-around crooks of the country. He is probably 6 feet 2 inches tall, 24 years of age, and weighs in the

He is probably 6 feet 2 inches tall, 24 years of age, and weighs in the neighborhood of two hundred and forty pounds, is very quiet in manner, temperate, and has no small vices.

Shortly after he made his flight from Los Angeles, several gentlemen from this city whom he had robbed, having ascertained that he was in Phœnix, went before District Attorney McLachlan for the purpose of having him extradited and brought to this city for trial that he might be sent to State's prison, but owing to the paucity of funds for that purpose in the hands of the Governor of this State, and the fact that it would bear quite heavily on the time and convenience of the gentlemen aforesaid, the matter was dropped.

and convenience of the gentiemen aforesaid, the matter was dropped. It is to be hoped Bassett will receive his full deserts, as his record is certainly as reprehensible as that of any criminal ever turned loose upon society.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—[Special to The TIMES.] The market for fresh fruits is very dull for this season of the year. There is an overstock of poor apples, but choice varieties sell readily, and above quotations, in some instances. Grapes are still offered, but sales are few and far between. In citrus fruits oranges are abundant and trade is good. Sicily lemons are lower. Mexican limes are firm, and are likely to be firmer when the news gets abroad, received by a private dispatch from Acapulco this morning, that the steamer sailing today has only fifty cases on board. Nuts and dried fruits are active and un-

Note and dried truits are active and un-changed.

There is little variety offered in the way of green vegetables, and the demand is slow. A lot of potatoes from the North came in frost-bitten and are difficult to sell. Onions hold moderately firm. Asparagus is scarcer and higher prices are asked.
